INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exists such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDER, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of other loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, } Editors.
SEATON GALES. }

Saturday Evening, Nov. 5, 1866.

North Carolina a Cotton State.

It may well be doubted whether the article of cotton can ever again be produced at as low a figure as previous to the war. Labor will not, for many years, if ever, be as cheap as slave labor was, and it is exceedingly dubious whether the quantity of labor, especially black labor, can ever be as largely employed in the production of cotton as formerly. This reduction of labor and the increased wages of work must keep the article up, ranging, for the next ten years at least, between sixteen and thirty cents. We select these two figures as the minimum and maximum prices, after the present crop is disposed of.

There are several reasons which incline us to the opinion that North Carolina is destined to rank with the leading Cotton States in the South, making allowance for the small area in which cotton can here be properly cultivated.—About two fifths of the State, we judge, can produce cotton well. The climate of the cotton region in this State is perhaps less fatal to either white or colored laborers employed in its cultivation, than in any of the more Southern Cotton States. The improved system of culture not only vastly improves the quantity but quality of the crop, but, rendering the felling of the forests to open new fields measurably unnecessary, will greatly improve the health of the region in which it is cultivated.

Moreover, this improved cultivation, added to the fitness of the climate for its production, renders the healthiness and productiveness of the plant far more certain in this State than in the more Southern or Southwestern States. At the same time, under judicious management, the soil here continues to improve and grow richer, rather than depreciate.

We are advised by those, who have been investigating the subject for some years, that an experience of ten years in the cultivation of cotton, both in this State and the South and West, will exhibit, at the end of that time, a decided advantage in favor of the cropping in this State. A more manifest thrift and improvement, as the result of cotton cropping in this State, will be seen here than in the South. Farmers being compelled to hire labor, and not being obliged to fell their forests in order to make bread for quite as many unproductive persons as laborers, will confine their operations to the improvement of their open and worn lands.—The result will be, the lands will become more valuable, a smaller area will be required for tillage, and the use of fertilizers, without the malaria of newly levelled forests, will render the country more healthy and better adapted to the employment of an improved class of laborers.

We hope, therefore, to see, for the next year, "a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether," made for putting in a large crop of cotton, in the entire cotton region of the State. We do not advise that the culture of corn, potatoes, peas, and the rearing of pork, be entirely substituted by cotton, but let every one make an honest effort to raise the largest cotton crop possible, in conjunction with bread and meat.

The New York Herald asks "Will the ten Southern States, excluded from the present Congress, be allowed to vote in the next Presidential election?" and adds: "This is a question of great importance to those States."

Remove the military and the Freedmen's Bureau, and give us a fair and generous opportunity in the Union to develope our physical and material resources and recuperate our shattered fortunes, and it is a matter of comparative indifference to many of the Southern people whether they ever vote in another Presidential election again or not. It is the apprehension that their vote may be felt in such elections that keeps them out. No principle,—no patriotic scruples,—simply a fear of losing the "loaves and fishes," with a considerable sprinkling of low hate and mean malevolence!

According to the Standard, (whose Editor signed the ordinance of secession,) the "rebels,"—by which it means the overwhelming majority of its fellow-citizens of the South,—are a terrible set. There is nothing in the whole catalogue of iniquities which they are not hankering to perpetrate. They swallow "unconditional Union" men for breakfast, dine on Quakers, and finish, at supper time, with a liberal allowance of Red Strings and juvenile Africans. The Montgomery Mail, whose Editor has evidently been reading the Standard, completes the picture. We quote:

"It is said that these unrepentant rebels, by a constant firing of cannon, have so disturbed the atmosphere for the past three months as to cause a continued rain, for the purpose of destroying the cotton crops of Northern men.—They have succeeded but too well in their nefarious purpose; and nothing can now protect them from the vengeance of the best people on the planet, except ratification of the pending amendment."

The Radical organ in this City, edited by one of the signers of the Ordinance of Secession, publishes the proceedings of a Convention of so-called Union soldiers, purporting to have been held in Asheville on the 13th day of October. One of the resolutions speaks of North Carolina, in the late war, as having engaged in a "treacherous conspiracy against the peace and dignity of the Union." This is rather a hard slap on Holden, who said that North Carolina had "gloriously" celebrated the anniversary of Mecklenburg independence, when she dissolved her connection with the government and took part in said "conspiracy."

Harper's Weekly.—Will the Standard endorse the Radical caricatures of President Johnson, contained in the number of Harper's Weekly of to-day, (Nov. 3rd?) We desire to know. That paper highly commended it, a few days, as indispensable to every family circle.

Small Farms.

With the emancipation of slavery, the cultivation of extensive homesteads passed away.—Even under that system, the mistaken ambition for owning twice as much land as one could thoroughly cultivate was the great agricultural sin of the country. The owner of a large number of slaves might have realized more productive returns by concentrating their industry upon a smaller number of acres. But if such was the case then, how much more so is it now! The exigencies of the present times will speedily teach the lesson that the mere possession of extensive lands, stretching their slopes before the gratified eye, and investing the owner with a factitious importance, will but poorly compensate for more substantial realities. Though it may be, in some respects, to be regretted, the fact is nevertheless certain that, to a very great extent, the old landed dignity, as embraced in the proprietorship of broad ancestral acres, and the ideas and habits which grew out of and attended it, are rapidly passing away, and will be compelled to give place to more utilitarian and progressive notions. We speak of such a change as to be in a measure regretted,—mainly in the abruption of those old-fashioned hospitalities and generous customs which the large planters of the South knew so well how to extend and to observe; but we think it quite sure that, in the sequel, under ordinary circumstances and just and equal chances in the government, it will be instrumental of good in all the elements of material prosperity, wealth and advancement, and in the production of the greatest good to the greatest number, which is, after all, the true aim of political economy.

We feel that we cannot too frequently impress upon our large land owners the importance of sub-dividing their estates and disposing, by lease, of such as they cannot themselves cultivate. For all to attempt to sell, at present, would be ruinous, for if all the superfluous land were thrown into market, it would become literally as "cheap as dirt." But to one of two alternatives they will unquestionably be reduced: Either they must divide, and lease, or they must allow their cumbrous estate to lie waste and unproductive.

Where leases are made, it is unquestionably to the interest of both parties that the leases should be long, in order that lessee and lessor should have a joint interest in improvements.—A great part of the cultivated territory of Europe is thus occupied, and while the system is demonstrated to be not unfriendly to the bringing of agriculture to great perfection, the rents constitute an immense proportion of the incomes of persons living on profits.

Linwood a Model Farm.—Our readers have observed the announcement, in the Sentinel, of the purpose of Dr. Holt, of Lexington, to expose to public sale, on the 11th. of December, that valuable estate, Linwood, in the "Jersey settlement" of Davidson. If Dr. Holt were just in the vigor of only forty years of age, we should demur to his disposing of that estate.—He is just the man, if he could take twenty years off of his shoulders, or more, to make Linwood a model farm for the State, under the new regime of labor, upon which our people are entering. But the "sere and yellow leaf" of life is upon him, and he retires from so heavy a task.

It has occurred to us, that if some man of capital, in the vigor of manhood, some thorough, trained, scientific and practical farmer of New Jersey, Pennsylvania or New York, could be induced to purchase Linwood, and would make it a model farm, under the new system of labor, as it was under the old, either employing all white or all colored labor, adding all the improved plans of culture, stock raising, &c., he could make it not only a blessing to himself, but a blessing to the State. We need some such exemplar, guide and stimulator in agricultural improvement—some one to mark out the way for the rest to follow. Any one would be doing a good service to direct the attention of some such gentleman to the sale of Linwood. Such gentleman would be welcomed to the State.

"The Sentinel during the campaign called on the grand juries to indict such Union men as Mr. Cowles."—Standard.

Here are three palpable falsehoods in as many lines.

1. The Sentinel, "during the campaign," never said anything which even the Standard, with its shameless proclivity for perversion, could torture into anything like the foregoing.

2. The Sentinel never alluded to Mr. Cowles in any such connection.

3. The Sentinel never proposed to indict Union men or anybody else for their political opinions, at any time before, during or since the campaign.

What was it Gen. Dockery said about that "same Bill Holden" in 1864?

The Radical concern in this City protests that the "Union men,"—by which it means, of course, the Red Strings and "such"—are "our best citizens, socially, politically, and personally." This is right. Stand up for your own side. We believe that, some few years ago, somebody wrote a book to prove that Judas Iscariot was a much slandered individual, and, upon the whole, a right clever fellow!

Polk	72	173
Halifax	391	9
Alleghany	220	61

As the session of Congress approaches, the Standard grows more venomous. It is performing its part of the bargain well, and if the San Salvador mission is not promptly forthcoming when it does convene, the Radical Senate will be justly amenable in damages for "non-performance of contract."

State Agricultural Society.

The call for the meeting of the State Agricultural Society, on Tuesday, the 27th. day of November, in this city, we consider very opportune. We hope that leading planters, and, indeed, every gentleman interested in the industrial enterprises of the State, will endeavor to be present.

That meeting is important, not only to encourage and re-inaugurate a general system of County Agricultural Societies and Fairs and to determine upon the Annual State Fair next October, but to draw out the views of thoughtful, intelligent and practical men in regard to the best and wisest plans for the division of labor in the State and the varieties of agricultural pursuit in which our people should embark. It is palpable to our mind, that, inasmuch as the climate and soil of the State are adapted to so diversified a variety of products, it is important that the efforts of the people of each section should be directed by leading and enterprising minds into the safest and best channels for the employment of labor.

A free consultation upon the subject of labor and laborers, the best arrangements for labor, what can be done for the better regulation and development of what we have, plans for the increase of that labor in all our industrial operations, the wages of labor, &c., would result in much good and a healthier state of feeling as to the future. Such a meeting, if time is taken for consultation, would do great good.

[From the Baltimore Transcript.]

The South.

If the spectacle of a great soul, struggling heroically with the waves of adversity, is pleasing to the gods, the spectacle of a great people, transfixed with the arrows of misfortune, and bleeding at every pore, yet uttering no exclamation of anguish or of anger, and neither losing faith in Heaven, nor in its own uprightness, is truly sublime. Such an exhibition, grand and affecting to all minds which can appreciate true moral greatness, the South now presents. If the persecutions of their enemies were not completely blinded by party passions, they would feel more reverence for the South in its misfortunes than when, at the summit of its prosperity, it guided and controlled the destinies of the great nation. With communities, as with individuals, it is only the fires of adversity that reveal the true character, and prove whether it is made of gold or dross. To such an ordeal has the South been subjected, and we assert that the result has demonstrated that it is an essentially great people, and will be remembered and admired in history as much for the serene fortitude and noble dignity with which it has sustained the direst calamities, as for its brilliant statesmanship in the period of its power and influence, and for that magnificent valor in battle which has extorted the admiring acclamations of the world.

What the South was in the days of her former greatness, we all know. It was she who gave to the world its "one Washington," the man raised up by Heaven for the achievement of American Independence; the man whose wonderful energies and capacity, combined with the most spotless purity of purpose and of character, were the principal agency in the successful conduct of the American Revolution and the triumphant establishment of the greatest Republic of modern times. It was her Jefferson who wrote the Declaration of Independence; her Patrick Henry whose eloquent voice thrilled like a clarion blast the hearts of a struggling people; her Madison, who illuminated with his wisdom the true principles of the American Constitution, and her Marshall, who remains to this day the unapproached and unapproachable glory of American jurisprudence. The sagacity of her statesmen in the national councils conducted the United States on to a career of progress and prosperity unexampled in the records of nations and the splendid genius of her soldiers in the field crowned with immortal chaplets of military renown. It was her Winfield Scott, Andrew Jackson, and Zachary Taylor, who, from the snows of Canada to the tropic sands of Mexico, gave to the world exhibitions of the superior martial skill and prowess of our countrymen to foreign enemies, which it had ever seen, and it was the consummate statesmanship and all embracing patriotism of Henry Clay which three times saved the Union he loved so well from the perils of division and civil war. These, the fathers of American greatness, were the children of the great and glorious mother, at whose breast they were nursed, on whose lap they first stood erect, from whose lips they first learned those lessons of patriotism, virtue and valor which made their country great among the nations, and their names immortal among men.

Nor has the South contributed less to the material than to the political and military importance of the nation. The vast domain of the teeming and productive West was given by the South to the American Union. It is no figure of speech, but the literal truth, she has been the Mother not only of Statesmen, but of States, and those States the most fertile, and destined to become the most populous and powerful, of the American commonwealth. The wonderful variety and extent of the peculiar productions of her own soil, of cotton, rice, tobacco, and naval stores, have laid the foundations of American commerce and contributed by far the greater part of the revenues of the nation. Strip from American progress and wealth the elements which the South has contributed, and what would remain? What would have been the revolution without Washington? What its growth and fortunes but for the gift of the South to the United States of the richest portions of its territory, and the commercial, manufacturing and national wealth, derived from the products of Southern agricultural industry? Deprived of those accessories to its greatness, the United States, if it so much as existed, would be a fourth or fifth rate power, without rank or respect among the nations.

All this glory of the South is past, and how does the land sit desolate that was once so radiant with beneficent power! Stripped of four thousand millions of property, bereaved of 300,000 of her children, shut out from the Union which she did so much to build up and enrich, she yet maintains a composure and fortitude more marvellous than her proudest archievements in the council and the field. Despoiled of her earthly possessions, looking back upon the most dismal blight that ever came upon the fortunes of a people, looking forward to the gathering of sombre clouds that threaten her utter destruction, with earth-quakes rumbling beneath her feet, and at her heart anguish and despair tugging like wild beasts, no querulous complaint drops from her lips, no frown of indignation or impatience disturbs her brow; there is sadness and resignation, but not one abject glance in her heroic eye.

"The Niobe of nations! there she stands,
Childless and crownless, in her voiceless woe,
An empty urn within her wither'd hands,
Whose holy dust was scatter'd long ago!
The Scipio's tomb contains no ashes now,
The very sepulchres lie tenantless
Of their heroic dwellers: dost thou flow,
Old Tiber! through a marble wilderness?
Rise with thy yellow waves and mantle her distress."

"Great Moral Ideas" in Chicago.

[From the Chicago Times, 26th.]

The most extensive raid ever made on disorderly houses in Chicago took place last evening. Deputy Superintendent Nelson conducted the raid. One hundred policemen were ordered by the Superintendent to report to the armory at 8 o'clock, there to await orders.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock the work commenced. The police were divided up into squads; each squad was provided with a temporary captain, and the combined force marched out, each squad taking a different direction. It was but a short time before the armory was crowded with men and women of the lowest and most degraded type. The females, especially, were distinguished for their vulgarity, their profanity, and their complete lack of anything which had the appearance of decency. The most of them were drunk. All were familiar faces to the police, having for months and years been subjected to frequent arrests on account of the vicious habits which have made them what they are. For three hours there was a continuous procession in the direction of the armory, and at eleven o'clock the rooms were so completely jammed that it was found to be inexpedient to continue the work which had been commenced with such remarkable success. The number of women arrested will astonish those who are not familiar with the haunts which abound in the South division of the city, and which are principally centered on the streets mentioned above. One hundred and fifty courtezans were collected in a single room! and there would certainly have been as many more had it been convenient to find them accommodations in the station house. The sight presented, as these women were huddled together within the limits of a single room, was indeed a sickening one, if viewed morally or even humanely. Nearly all of them were at one time beautiful women, loved and respected.

Besides the women there were something more than one hundred of their male friends and companions arrested. These constituted thieves and loafers—men who are not entitled to the most remote particle of sympathy. There was an occasional rustic among the number, and one or two men whose positions in society ought to be sufficient safeguard against their being found in any such locality.

"Vegetable pills!" exclaimed an old lady, "don't talk to me of such stuff. The best vegetable pill ever made is an apple dumpling. For destroying a gnawing of the stomach there's nothing like it."

We have a fine example of the delicate taste and sweet generosity inherent among the "American people," in the fact that within forty-eight hours after Ristori had landed on our shores, she had sent to her as presents twenty boxes containing materials for cleaning her teeth!

The order prohibiting persons from seeking redress through the courts, in cases of titles to lands and other property confiscated and sold by the Government, has been revoked in the military department of Washington by direction of the President.

The U. S. Treasurer has received a $500 Confederate note, with a letter from Georgia, suggesting as the note was payable two years after the ratification of a treaty of peace between the Confederate and United States, it might be exchanged for greenbacks.

The public schools of the city of New York cost $2,500,000 a year.

Of 3,000,000 children in England, over 1,000,000 do not attend school.

MARRIED:

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN

LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C.

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. The square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

Terms—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered.

Also, 20 shares of stock in the North Carolina Railroad Company.

Also, all the Household and Kitchen Furniture, one new Hydraulic Ram with glass air-chamber, and a large lot of Lead and proof Tin Pipe, with every variety of property named in the Trust.

MATCH GAME between the "Pioneer" and "Tar Heel" Base Ball Clubs, Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 2nd. 1866.

Decidedly the most attractive and interesting entertainment we have lately enjoyed was the match game, between the two Base Ball Clubs, of our City, which took place yesterday afternoon on Nash Square. The delight anticipated was abundantly evinced by the large concourse of spectators, and the anticipations were fully realized, if we may judge by unmistakable demonstrations. Nearly one thousand persons, including the "beauty and chivalry," the elite and ton of the community, witnessed with intense and absorbing interest the progress of the game, and gave encouragement by smiles and cheers.

The challenge was given, two weeks since, by the "Pioneer Club," and the game was played upon the ground of the challenged party.—Punctually at two, the hour appointed, the nine players from the Pioneers appeared, creating a very favorable impression by their manly and rather soldierly bearing. Their uniform was striking, and more like sporting costume than that of their competitors, the loose red shirt and open collar with white star contrasting well with the black velvet cap and black pantaloons. Either the name or the gray shirt of the "Tar Heels" won many to their side by memories tender, though their oil-cloth caps and black pantaloons somewhat neutralized the "rebellious" tendencies. The contrast between the nines was made more evident, as they were drawn up to receive the charge of the Umpire, R. W. Best, Esq. the superior size and age of the Pioneers telling in their favor.

The game opened with some spirit, the "Tar Heels" having the first innings, though they played with trepidation, either the presence of so many bright eyes, or the contest with more experienced players, rendering them somewhat nervous. Two runs, well made, and the "Pioneers" had the innings. Unaccustomed to the grounds, they labored under a disadvantage, and did not play as well as their reputation justly entitled the lookers-on to expect.—Making but two runs, their competitors again had the innings, and made three runs. The side being played out, the "Pioneers," on their second innings, made only one run.

Public expectation was now growing more and more awakened, as it had been thought the Pioneers would make an easy success. At the close of the third innings, the Tar Heels were one ahead, having seven runs to six for the Pioneers. The fourth innings decided the game, the Tar Heels not making a round, and the Pioneers twelve! The result of the game was then regarded a fore-gone conclusion.

The fifth innings showed the most successful batting and running for both clubs, and, we may say, the most unsuccessful field playing.—The Tar Heels made in this innings sixteen rounds, and the Pioneers thirteen. But even with this the game stood twenty-three runs, Tar Heels, to thirty-one, Pioneers.

The next three innings added to the score for the Pioneers, the Tar Heels making only one run each innings, and the Pioneers making six, the seventh innings.

The ninth innings afforded the last opportunity for the Tar Heels to retrieve their fortunes, and they played earnestly and well and made 7 runs. At this stage, the score was thirty-three to thirty-nine, and the Pioneers had an innings yet to play. But they were unlucky in batting, and the Tar Heels very vigilant, so that not a run was made, and the game stood at thirty-nine for Pioneers, to thirty-three for Tar Heels.

Below will be found the technical report of scorers as announced with great enthusiasm to the expectant assemblage:

The fourth and fifth innings of the Pioneers afforded evidence of first-rate skill in batting and running, and was looked on with evident satisfaction. The fifth innings of the Tar Heels was the most successful of any one innings, securing sixteen runs. Where all did so well, it would seem invidious to distinguish, but the report shows that both clubs were successful in the selection of Captains,—Messrs. Ryan and Busbee leading their respective nines.

The whole game was played in two hours and a half, and in perfect good humor; players and spectators being entirely satisfied. Everything passed off most pleasantly, and it is to be hoped so agreeables diversion will soon be offered our citizens again.

Mr. Best acted with promptness and fidelity, as Umpire, and the scorers, Messrs. Donald W. Bain, of the Pioneer, and Wm. S. Lacy, of the Tar Heel club, agreed in their record. Messrs. Harrison, Palmer and Moss of the latter, and Messrs. Hearft, Bragg and Lovejoy of the former club, were marshalls to preserve order.

The Pioneer Club desire to say that they claim to hold the champion ball of the State, and will continue to do so until wrested from them in fair play.

His friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral service, which will be held in the Episcopal Church.

State News.

——The Wilmington Dispatch gives an interesting account of impressive services in St. James' Church, (Episcopal) in that city, on Thursday last,—All Saints' Day,—commemorative of the dead of the parish and the Confederate soldiers from that place who lost their lives during the late war. It says:

"The custom, which the pastor of St. James' church purposes to inaugurate, is fraught with much solemnity and beauty, and we trust that, on each returning festival of the church devoted to all the saints, this feature will be retained.—The church had been appropriately decorated for this celebration, and the walls were hung with tablets devoted to the perpetuation of the memories of the gallant and sainted dead.—The services were impressive; and the sermon was adapted to the occasion.

We noticed with sad pleasure that the following officers and soldiers, who fell in the cause of Southern independence, were remembered, their names being inscribed on neat shields, with their rank and the date of their death:

Maj Gen W H C Whiting, Col Gaston Meares, Col A Duncan Moore, Lt Col W M Parsley, Maj Henry McRae, Maj Robt B McRae, Capt Edward D Meares, Capt Ed H Armstrong, Capt R C Green, Capt J F S VanBokelen, Capt R G Rankin, Capt T E Armstrong, Capt Jas A Wright, Lieut Jas Price, Lieut W H Quince, Lieut F J Moore, Lieut W A Wooster, Lieut Thomas Cowan, Lieut H W Potter, Lieut R M Quince, Lieut Cicero Craige, Surgeon Middleton Cooper, Surgeon Peter Custis, Sergt Major Alexander D Moore, Sergt Maj R McRee, Sergt Maj Chas T Wright, Thomas Cowan, Ed S DeRossett, Joseph H Wright, Wm. W Peacock, Clarence Martin.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.

Sandford Conover, alias Charles A Dunham, was arrested in New York on yesterday and brought to Washington to-day. He is charged, on the affidavit of Wm. H. Roberts, with having fraudulently procured Roberts to commit to memory and swear to a false statement before the House Committee on the Judiciary, as to matters implicating Jefferson Davis in the murder of Mr. Lincoln. Conover, it will be recollected, gave secret testimony before the Military Commission on the trial of the assassination Conspirators.

The Baltimore Excitement on the Increase, Troops Sent There!

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3, M.

The Radical mass meeting last night adopted an address to the country, declaring they were anxious to maintain peace,—that all doubts relating to the removal of the Commissioners should be decided by the Courts,—bitterly denouncing Gov. Swann, and accusing him with a purpose of throwing political power into the hands of rebels.

The new Police Commissioners to-day went to the old Commissioners' office, where their appearance was the signal for tumultuous demonstrations of disapproval by the large crowd. They handed in their demand for possession, and then returned to the Conservative headquarters to await a reply. They were received with loud cheering from the crowd.

It is now understood that they are organizing a new force. Five or six members of the old resigned last night and to-day reported to the new.

Feeling of the Canadians---The Clamor for the Execution of the Fenian Prisoners.

MONTREAL, Nov. 1.—There seems only one feeling among the Canadians—that the law must take its course with the Fenian prisoners. They maintain that these men's crimes cannot be held to be in any way considered as a political offence, that they came into a peaceable country without cause and murdered innocent men, that the Irish citizens held them in as much detestation as did those of any other nationality, that it was a mere pretext to obtain plunder and to bring in fresh contributions to the treasury depleted by the wasteful extravagance of swindling leaders, and that no shadow of patriotism rests upon a wicked and wanton outrage. They say, too, that they will rally around the Government in defence of the country, let the attack come from what quarter it may, and that if they are beaten it must be in a fair stand-up fight. These are the sentiments expressed on all sides, both publicly and privately. At the same time they say that there is no desire for vengeance or unnecessary punishment, and if any reasonable consideration can be shown for leniency to the prisoners, that it will be exercised, but not from the fear of Fenian threats.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal dosen enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

The Wheeling Register says: "Dr. Gardner is one of the most successful Oculists and Aurists in the country. We advise those suffering from the diseases of the eye and ear to consult him."

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy. I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; it burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonials

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude.

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the Colleges Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made.—The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.

1866. FALL TRADE 1866.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS.

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McNEECE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market.
